DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Applicant's amendment overcomes the drawing objections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Applicant's amendment overcomes the rejections.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Abey (GB 595,100).

Abey discloses a sanitizable float valve to be used in water purification circulation, the valve comprising, a body (3) defining a valve chamber,

a fluid inlet (6) disposed in the body fluidly communicating with the chamber,

a fluid outlet disposed in the body fluidly communicating with the chamber, and a closing element (15) placed into the valve chamber of the body, the closing element having a length essentially longer than a diameter of the closing element, wherein the valve chamber of the body and the closing element are dimensioned to form an allowance therebetween and wherein fluid exiting the valve exits through the allowance or through the fluid outlet when the valve is open.

Regarding claim 2, Abey discloses that the closing element (the cone of 15) has a partly convex sealing surface dimensioned to sealingly engage the fluid inlet of the valve, see also column 3, lines 11-15, "valve plug may have its operating end shaped part-spherical".

Regarding claim 3, Abey discloses that an end of the closing element opposite to a front surface is rounded. The cone portion is round and certainly the tip of the cone must have at least some small radius on the tip, see also column 3, lines 11-15, "valve plug may have its operating end shaped part-spherical". Alternatively, the other end (16) as shown in figure 3 is rounded.

Regarding claim 4, Abey discloses that the valve chamber is substantially cylindrical in form (the chamber contour conforms to the "tubular portion" of the valve) and the closing element of the valve is substantially circular in cross section (Col.2, Lns. 83-87).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Abey'100 in view of Bierman (2,793,654).

Abey is silent to the float valve having a closing element made from PTFE.

Bierman discloses a float assembly, which teaches a valve made from PTFE (Col.2, Lns. 33-38).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to employ the PTFE closing element of Bierman into the assembly of Abey in order to "give no leakage" (Col.2, Lns. 33-38).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 9/28/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Arguments concerning the limitation "wherein fluid flowing through the valve exits through the allowance or through the fluid outlet when the valve is open", is not persuasive, because fluid does flow through the outlet when the valve is open. There is no limitation as presented which states that part of the fluid goes through the allowance and the majority of fluid through the opening. The claim uses the limitation "or" which is taken to mean that the fluid can go through one outlet or the other, therefore the Abey reference meets the claim limitation.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
